

Natural Language Processing and Embeddings

Natural Language Processing (NLP) is a field of artificial intelligence that enables computers to understand, process, and generate human language.

Embeddings are numerical vector representations of words, sentences, or documents. They capture semantic relationships between pieces of text and are widely used in semantic search and NLP applications.